K. of P. Ball.

The Knights of Pithias Ball at the Phoenix Hotel to-morrow night will be no ordinary affair. The Knights will attend in their uniform, and the music will be first-class. The dining room is a large and suitable room, and no doubt the crowd will be immense. The beauty of the city and country will be largely represented. Gentlemen will be required to pay $1.00 admission fee. Tickets of ladies will not be issued to the ladies.

Death—On the 25th inst., at the residence of Mr. Robt. M. Mills, Mary Ellen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brandon.

Married—On the 20th inst., at the Catholic Church, by Father Hoesley, Mr. Mike Donohue and Miss Kate Barrett.

HERE AND THERE.

Oh! sweet to the music the listener hears, As the nightingale sings her song in the dell, That the music sweeter than all to our ears, Is the welcome ringing of the dinner bell. Circuit Court begins next week.

Get your ball tickets from Howard Speck.

Big Ball in town, boys, to-morrow night.

Efforts are being made to get up a dancing school.

Remember the day, Oct. 11th, only a few more weeks.

The editorial change will not affect the distribution, Oct. 11.

The city was thoroughly cleaned out by the heavy rains last Saturday.

Another runaway scrape and smashing of a vehicle last week.

The cellar of the New Era printing room on Court St. is nearly done.

The young folks had a nice dance at Mr. J. B. Dado's last Monday night.

But small congregations at the churches Sunday on account of the rain.

When the new bank is completed it will be the prettiest building in the city.

Our Trenton correspondent gives an account of a tragedy at that place on the 23rd.

Young gentlemen, see that the young ladies don't lack for escorts to-morrow night.

Mr. J. M. Howe has just had a new buggy made which is the admiration of all beholders.

When you come into court next week don't forget to come and subscribe for the South Kentuckian.

Several attempts have been made to turn Memphis, but the fire so far have been promptly extinguished.

We regret to learn that Miss Belle Dyer, daughter of Judge A. B. Dyer, of Cadiz, died at Centerville last Thursday, of Consumption.

The Street has saved on Nashville Street near the residence of William Mills, making an ugly hole which should be looked after.

The Male department of the public school, taught by Teacham & Wallace has opened with 70 pupils.

The school is being taught at Durbin's school house on Russellville, st.

A gentleman who has just returned from a trip through Stuart and Montgomery counties Tennessee reports the crops very fine in that section and the people hopeful of better times.

A protracted meeting is in progress in the Presbyterian Church at Beckettstown, conducted by Revs. Thimlin and Maxey. There have been some additions to the church.

Mr. Geo. E. Gary late of Vanderbilt university will teach school at Concord in this county, beginning next Monday. He is well qualified, and will no doubt make a good teacher.

Velocipedes are getting to be downright nuisances. Grown up men ride them up and down the streets for amusement. They are among the best things known to scare horses.

Tom Burbridge, Key McKee and Andrew Rogers were the applicants for the cadetship from Hopkinsville. They were all, however, unable to stand the examination and let a rival from Muhlenberg bear off the prize.

A real old fashioned, soaking, all-day rain last Saturday, just such a one as the farmers have been needing for several weeks. We fear it has come too late to do the corn much good, but it will prove of great benefit to the tobacco crop.

Messrs. Gray & Rackner have purchased the sole right to manufacture the celebrated Inulin Female Bitters. They have bought a drug mill for the preparation of the roots and other ingredients, and are now daily manufacturing the article. They are having made a fine wagon for the purpose of having it retailed throughout the country. This medicine is fast gaining a reputation of superiority over all other similar compounds.

Daughters' College.

At Harrodsburg, Ky., whose advertisement appears in this paper, is one of the oldest and most celebrated institutions for the education of women in the State. Many of the most accomplished and useful women of the country claim it with pride as their alma mater, and are now sending their daughters to take their places in its halls. It is situated on the site of the old Greenville Springs—whose waters are so famous—and is surrounded by one of the most lovely and healthful regions in the West. No institution has done more to elevate the standard of female education, and the constant patronage it has received from all the surrounding States, as well as from Kentucky, indicates the high esteem in which its methods and appointments are deservedly held.

Attempted Suicide.

Wallace Smith, a young man about 25 years old, attempted suicide by taking Morphine, last Saturday. As soon as it was discovered Dr. L. G. Alexander was sent for and found him in a very critical condition. He, however, set to work, and after several hours of untiring effort succeeded in resuscitating him. The Doctor certainly proved his skill as a physician, and evinced much knowledge of the manner of treating such cases. He is a number one doctor.

POLICE NEWS.

Things were rather lively in the police court Friday. Several parties were tried and fined for disorderly conduct.

HOUSEHOLD WANTED.
A man named Gorb was in this city one day last week trying to sell a horse and buggy. He had almost made a trade when he was arrested on some questions about the matter. He made him mad, and he remarked that if the purchaser of his horse and buggy as that they needn't buy it, and drove away. In a short while a telegram was received from New York, Green asking the police to arrest him, and stating that he had been a horse and buggy for an hour or two before, and had been with them. By that time, however, he had gone, and we suppose is still at large.

THE DEADLY BULLET AGAIN.
On the evening of Saturday, 10th inst., a difficulty occurred on the farm of Frank Stuart in the northern part of the county between a young man named Geo. Knight and a negro named Peyton Bass in which the latter was killed. They were engaged in a quarrel and Bass knocked Knight down with an axe handle. Knight arose and threw a stone at Bass striking him in the face, and then shot him in the side with a shot gun, and cut his throat with a knife after he fell. The negro died in a short while. Knight, who is only about twenty years of age, has not been arrested. The negro was a notorious desperado and public nuisance. The report given us of the affair is correct it was a case of self defense, and the negro got only what he deserved.

Some time in the month of June a man named Stephens stole a mare and colt from Mrs. Hale, living in the northern part of the county. He captured and swapped the mare and colt to Mr. John Davenport, living on the Princeton road, for a mule, and afterwards sold the mule at auction. For some time no colt could be found to the thief, but the authorities received a letter from the man in jail at Nashville that cleared up the whole thing. He had gone into Tennessee, and in the practice of his profession had been so unfortunate as to be nabbed for stealing some clothes. In his extremity he wrote to the authorities here confessing the theft of last June, and asking them to come for him and try him here. He told where the mare and colt could be found, and they were promptly recovered. A requisition was obtained from the Governor and he was brought to this city Tuesday and held over for trial at Circuit Court. The only question now is the length of time he will be sent for.

TRENTON.
U. L. McGuire was in town Sunday.

Misses Addie and Jennie Yost, two of Allen'sville's most popular belles are visiting their relatives in this place.

The schools will reopen next Monday.

Cross Wood says he is tired of vagrancy. Suppose that letter he got yesterday reminded him that his vacation would close and he would return to Trenton once more.

We had occasion last week to travel over a considerable part of Todd and Christian counties and took especial notice of the tobacco crops along our route. There seems to be about three-fourths of a crop planted and at least one-fourth of that will be caught by frost, as it is no larger than when we set out. The remainder is very inferior. The leaves being narrow and standing up straight. Mr. Roberts, of Church Hill, Christian county has the best and best tobacco we saw, and he says it has never been so wet too long since planted.

Contrary to the opinion of some of our farmers, he believes in plowing often in dry seasons. He plowed his tobacco vines times, and thinks it will yield an average of 1200 lbs to the acre, throughout his whole crop of forty acres.

George Lutherford has gone to Illinois to assist Charlie Muscio with his threshing machine.

Our young friend Robt McGuire expects to take a position as brakeman of the passenger train on the Nashville and Evansville division of the L. & N. road. It will pay him well and the next promotion will probably be to the position of conductor.

A party consisting of H. R. Dickson and Miss Fannie Finch, Willie Payne and Miss Fannie White, Chas. Chesney and Miss Rosa Tandy visited Dunbar Cave and Idaho Springs one day last week. Charlie broke down and he had to transfer his girl to the care of Willie Payne, who delivered her safe at home.

This morning about six o'clock Geo. Samuels shot his wife and then shot himself through the head causing instant death. The woman is very seriously if not fatally wounded. She was cooking for Prof. Pointer. Cause supposed to be jealousy.

CHIEF.
It is estimated that Europe will have to pay out fully $600,000,000 to foreign countries this year for food, and it is believed that not one-half of the vast sum will come to the United States.

LAFAYETTE.

We have been told, and somehow the fact has forcibly impressed itself upon our mind, that one of the leading characteristics of the South Kentuckian is to be lenient to a principle of honesty, socially, politically and otherwise, as well as freedom of thought and expression, while its generous columns furnish the medium through which we occasionally could give vent to our suppressed ideas and notions, on not only the above topics, but a variety. This point, however, established we feel privileged to moralize a little, and the theme furnishing a text just now is the following caption, which found place in one of our popular journals not long since, "A woman, no doubt, at the bottom of the mischief." The circumstances that called into being this comment were these: A serious difficulty had arisen between two gentlemen, whose relations had been to each other as close and kind as were those of Damon and Pythias, yet, without warning, the public were suddenly electrified by the announcement of the tragic death of one fellow by the hand of the other, and latterly the suicide of the one remaining. Not a case could be given in regard to the cause, and yet our journalists sums up and briefly dispatches the whole with the comment, "A Woman, no doubt, at the bottom of the mischief." Drivelly why ask after the cause, the liberation, should this be the final conclusion? Can it be true that amid the many temptations that invite one to deeds of evil and crime that woman is held pre-eminent? Since, as the writer avers, there was no clue, was it not barely possible that the cause of the tragedy was a woman, a devil, warmed their brains into an unhealthy action, exaggerating some word, or act, until a mere mole-hill had become a mountain, thereby bringing about the tragedy. The writer says of these men that they were cultured and refined. That may be too, and yet how often just such men have been drawn into the fascinating maelstrom of hazard and chance, led there by their own impulses, and no woman was at the bottom of the mischief. Then would it not be more charitable to suppose that the cause of the tragedy was a false clue, like some popular billiard saloon, or in some more fashionable and genteel club room. Again, may not the "Adamant" nature of man have asserted itself in a thousand different ways; and just one of these thousand might have been the cause of the tragedy. The typo made us "plov," instead of "plov," our unassuming way last week, and we are still stepping to the same measure, however, with the prospect of something better soon.

These cool refreshing mornings and evenings, so suggestive of Fall, promise a return of the many merry, happy school girls and boys, that with the opening of the fall session will add so much to the life of Lafayette.

Despite the pleasant nights, the noonday sun gives us a warm greeting.

We were last Friday, by a refreshing rain on the crops, and the farmers still clamor for more rain, and while regretting the small yield of wheat, talk glowingly of the corn crop in prospect.

The protracted meeting still progresses at Sharon. Sermons good, attendance large and much interest manifested.

Visitors continue to find Lafayette attractive. Among those with us at present are: Mrs. Peter Fox and family, of the Garrettsburg neighborhood, and Miss Mattie D. Hester, of Caledonia, Trigg county, who are guests of Capt. Wm. Heister. Misses Bernice Jones, Cass and Mollie Sims, Garrettsburg neighborhood, have been visiting Miss Ella Northington.

Misses Emma Cooper and Lucy Eden, who have been visiting friends in Cadiz have just returned.

Mrs. R. J. Carothers, who is summing at Sebree Springs, writes favorably of the accommodations and guests of that pleasant resort.

Prof. J. H. Wilson, recently of the Lafayette High School, has just returned from Sebree.

Lafayette continues quiet and orderly. The town rules and regulations are strictly enforced by Mr. J. P. Ezzell, while our Court is presided over by Judge James Ragdale, our only resident lawyer, with a grace and dignity unequalled.

OLIVE BRANCH.

Our Distribution.
As we have heretofore announced our grand distribution of $500 in valuable premiums, will be made at the Fair Oct. 11. Any changes that have been made in the business or editorial departments of the paper will not affect the drawing in the least. It will certainly come off at the appointed time, and some one of our subscribers will certainly draw each of the premiums offered. Only a short while remains for old subscribers to come up and get their tickets. We want every one of our patrons to have a chance in the drawing. We are highly gratified at the degree of popularity our paper has attained, and it shall be our earnest endeavor to merit the continued patronage of a generous and appreciative public.

CHURCH MUSIC.—The finest music provided by any church in the country is to be heard on Sundays and holidays at St. Francis Xavier's in New York. Its origin and its choir are also famous, and its services are crowded by both the religious and the critical. The credit of this superb performance belongs to the organist, Prof. Wm. Borge, music doctor, who but a little while ago, ruptured an artery in his arm and had to abandon his profession until cured by Giles' Linctoid, Jodine Ammonia, Giles' Pills cure Dyspepsia. Sold by all druggists. Send for pamphlet, Dr. Giles, 130 West Broadway, N. Y. Trial size 25 cents. For sale by Hopper & Son.

The mutilated records of Rowan county, so important in the Green-Hills case were stolen from the clerk's office last week and have not since been heard from. Their recovery is of the utmost importance to both of the parties in the suit.

CHURCH HILL.

Dusty and dry has been the cry for two months, but the welcome rain has come at last. On Saturday last it seemed that the windows of heaven were opened, and the steady down-pour was most refreshing. This is the first rain in June of any considerable amount in this section for many weeks. While nothing like as much water has fallen as is needed we have had enough to do a great deal of good in reviving the perishing crops. The tobacco crop may be nearly ruined and the corn crop greatly shortened by the great drought but abundant rain now will save much that would otherwise soon have been lost.

Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh opened school in this district on Monday last with a very good attendance.

Rev. A. C. Caperton, Editor of the Western Recorder, delivered a very able and interesting sermon to a large congregation at South Union church Sunday the 17th.

It becomes our painful duty to chronicle the death of one of our most promising young men. We allude to Mr. Robert Boyd who died at his residence, near here, on Tuesday night the 19th, after an illness of two weeks.

None who became intimately acquainted with Mr. Boyd failed to become firmly and sincerely attached to him, and now that he has gone from the scenes of familiar association forever, his former friends will sadly miss his gentlemanly conduct, agreeable manners, and natively social qualities. They will linger with fond remembrance over his many virtues, which were wont to inspire the kindest regard.

About 9 o'clock Monday morning the 18th, two unknown persons entered the house of Mr. N. B. Flowers while he was in a field at work and after frightening Mrs. Flowers off the premises they pillaged the house and carried off all the money and a few other articles, made good their escape. It caused quite a stir among the neighbors, and search was made for them for two days but failed to do any good. It is supposed that they are some of the party that have been committing numerous depredations lately and we hope we have previously made mention.

SHORTFELLOW.

BEVERLY.
A good rain fell last Friday, the first we have had for several weeks. Some of the farmers are very much disheartened about their crops, they have suffered so long for rain.

The Charade party given at T. H. Major's on the 12th was a success. The names of the ladies and gentlemen that took an active part in the Charade were: Misses—Annie Major, Joe Currier, Letha Stegar, Annie Clives, Joe Seates, Rebecca Adams, and Messrs. Andrew Sargent, Jimmie Cayce, Willie Smith, Joe Ferguson, John Jones, Morton Giles. All performed their parts well. The entertainment was highly enjoyed by all. There were a great many charming young ladies present. Miss Mollie Stegar, from Longview, has attractions that few could resist; while Miss Mattie Carr, from Church Hill, is equally as fascinating and lovely.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Major have gone on a visit of several days to relations in Lyon county.

Miss Annie Rives has been visiting the family of Mr. Tom Adams for some weeks.

Miss Anna Ford is spending a week with Miss Annie Major during the absence of her brother and family.

Miss Mattie Crabtree, an attractive lady of New Providence, is visiting her friends in the neighborhood of Longview.

We desire to correct the mistake in our last letter in regard to the hope given by Mr. Ford's, there was none.

Another death, we are sorry to say, occurred in this neighborhood on the 17th, little Nannie, three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Burke.

Our handsome friend, G. H. the blues very bad, his sweetheart won't consent to "make up." He wonders what makes the girl so foolish.

The public school to be taught in Owsley's school house begins on the 25th of this month. —SEBASTIAN.

The Yellow Leaf.

What significance this brings to the heart of a man, who thinks that death is around the corner of "yellow leaf," is full of pathos and meaning. They speak in tones not easily forgotten, that although they in spring and summer time, battered to the ground by frost and snow, that now during the fall season, they are assuming their winter garb of death, and will soon fall to the ground to be forgotten.

What a thought! Thousands of females are this day passing through the yellow leaf stage precariously. They are rapidly closing their lives of usefulness by refusing to receive themselves a reliable remedy, a remedy that is at hand as the English Female Bitters, the great female regulator of the day.

Constitution.

It is a disease common to all human beings. The rich and poor, the old and young, male and female are its regular victims. At the bedside, the physician first questions, "Why are you bowled?" This condition has many causes, and leads to many diseases, as follows: indigestion, acid stomach, heartburn, nervousness, sick headache, torpidity of the liver, constipation, inflammation of the bowels, nervousness, loss of appetite, etc. These conditions, whether affecting old or young, can all be relieved by the use of "Little's Pink Pills," which is a pleasant and sparkling purgative, acting speedily and effectively upon the stomach, bowels and liver, giving tone and strength, and restoring indigestion, curing sick headache, heartburn, and acid stomach, and all the other ailments that attend a weak and nervous system.

Try Day's Ague Tonic.

Quinine removes the malarial element of a chill, but it is apt to return on the morrow. All malarial diseases require that the stomach shall be thoroughly cleansed, the liver unobscured, and the bowels unobscured, and the pores of the skin opened before a final cure can be effected. Quinine or any other drug can possibly produce these results as the stomach, heart, liver and bowels are not cleansed, the liver unobscured, and the bowels unobscured, and the pores of the skin opened before a final cure can be effected.
